meet of decaybayes I whose here issues can lighten. The durkness of grief and high the deep right-il have movies can the pleasan of despendency brighten, And wipe the oast over down mixery's oyo'!

"I is in thy mild bases the heart of discress.
World a by dent fielding of acrow report;
For enough thy voice one its usualts repress,
And sweet is the near from companion that flows. What tressures an earth that as levely appear? Or is there a gene dearest safare can vir, or gious near to prize as the mingling tear, That chrystalized flows from sympathy's eye,

Then to thee! yet to thee! will the boson appeal,
That bath ended been turn by the tempest of sorrow;
For while at the shrine of affection we kneek,
Some Joys will the hopedess feelings may horne.
ELLEN.

POR THE SATURDAY EVENIES POST TO ELLEN.

No * graceless youth" thy pen avalls, Ah! no he laves, and will forever; And e'en when finn'd by adverse gale "Con'l forget" her?—never! never!

Yes, "painful memory" yet will rear A tomb on joys I cannot speak; Will prompt toy sou; to grant the tear, That oft will trickle down my check-

Oh! when I think of days gone by.
When first affection blest my view.
Ethers, without a giveform a sigh.
The weit-known secure that famey drew.
How could I hear? Oh! no—twas pain
To pecture on my meloser's had,
The west form that nild my beats.
With thoughts shat now but norture grief.

But still I love! nor woold I dare Core: al that attribute of Heaven; Long saree my bisson feit its share. When by that high command twas given to soon, wise ! perhaps we part; But the on earth we're doom'd to we're, Still she who holds my bursting beart, Shall claim my warmest love forever.

Etlen, ad ou! that song of thine Awakes my schoolest slumbring soul; Oh! let my last, my ferewell line. Oer thy warm bussion fleetly roll.

LINES

In her arms I forgot, That we ever must part, "Lift "lorget me not," Burnt from her beart,

Ah! can I beget thee, ho tender and true? As soon the wide and Hight dry up from views

No I ne'er has forget,
The heart-piereing sigh,
Or the tear of regret
That feil from her eye. As suon might I live,
And forget to behold,
Or hear then private.

Thy fundaces both been So faithful and sweet,

It is only then, My bliss is complete. As the mild, fund dove, Thou art gentle—and fair;

To the dwelling of grief, Where misers dwells, Thy look brings retief, And the feeling tear swells.

Thy countenance, mild,
As the sun's last ray;
From the heart piere'd and will,
Drives sorrow away.

Still let me behold.
Thy form as it bends,
And with sindness untold,
Officions aid lends. When the fast flowing tears, And the still-bush'd breath,

The aid grieving wents. Of the chamber of death-Again let me hear, Thy fond cherring voice, When it calms the death fear, Rads the dying repoice.

In seems of such wee, And in terrors like these,

Come, come my fond love, To these thrice-happy arms; And let them util proce The home of thy charms.

Every sorrowing pain, Will then, love, depart.

Yes, thy downy check, fair, And thine eyes melting glow, Dispet every care From the bosom of woe.

With thee, I am blest,
The 'ne gloct d' and lone,.
On thy bosom to rest.
And to end thee my own.

NTS

Total .

Let fate still deny, What others call bling Lie nought to a sigh, From a bason like this.

Ah ! his of with thy smiling. Here let me repose ; and a feeting beguiting, Will busish all wars.

THE SOLDIER'S DREAM.

He ne'er again may dream of home, Or view his offspring emiliarly.

Corse, sit you down around the board, We be gian to see you cheerfully. We mener heard so dear a word, As that you spoke so tenderly.

Come, wife—ah! come—I never, love
Will leave a secure so blimfully;
Ah! no—nor from thy print reserve,
I prize thy stoller too ardently.

Come, little prattler, let me hear The tair yo tell so feelingly; Darlieg: it makes me think of where Fre spent my time so wearing.

But, now my love, the wars are done
I have wid test me peacefully.
Now think how oft I've seen the sun,
Dan'd by the blune of musquetry.

Published by ATKINSON & ALEXANDER, No. 53 MARKET STREET, three doors below &

Take, take away the resy smile, if his not given discovery; No disspice shall this heart begul From her I have supremely.

And ah I may beaven for thy deer sake, Remove our parting distantly. Geant we may long those jays partake, Thom'st given us so abundantly.

THE MORALIST.

TIME.

"On fickle wings the moments haste, And fortune's favors never last,"

What is that which softens the sorrow of so many inhabitants of this earth, and cloys the pleasures of others, and make them insipid to their taste?—which come upon us, burthened with the fates of men, and passes by to the judgment throne of heaven, loaded with their virtues or their It is Time ; which moves steadily and swiftly onward, and bears with it all that ever has been. Its power exceeds that of the greatest monarch of the earth for what is there it cannot do, or where is that which can withstand its power? The loftiest and firmest temple ever reared by the hand of man, crumbles to dust as it approaches it, and the fairest flower that ever shed fragrance in the air, hangs its head and withers at its touch.

It is impossible for man to comprehend it, for when he attempts to reason on its beginning or its end, he finds that his mental faculties are unable to grasp it, and he loses himself in the dark mystery that enshrouds it, until he is glad to turn the subject from his thoughts, and rest them upon the more common events of the present or the past.

It has been the remark of the most learn ed of men, that time is but an island in the vast and boundless ocean of eternity. An idea of this kind may be indulged, when it is read in the pages of a poem-for poetry is mostly a fiction: but I am astonished that it should ever be seen on the records of truth-that it should be set down among the various pieces of information contained in a Philosophical Treatise. Man cannot yet conceive of time; why then should he meddle with eternity? The inhabitants of the earth may sink into the tomb, and change again into the dust from which they sprung-the earth, that now moves so regularly in its orbit, may go -we know not where-and creation itself may cease to be-but time will never have an end .-It rolls along, like a mighty wave, with a steady and unceasing motion. It turns aside for nothing-it pauses for nothing; but seizes upon every thing it overtakes, and they are lost in the deep and impenetrable darkness which no mortal eye can

Of what avail is it then, that man, feeble man, should labour so hard for that wealth or glory, the one of which, a few years may deprive him of, and the other, in a little while, he may cease to feel.

'If,' says a very celebrated and beautiful writer, 'such thoughts were always predominant, we should see the absurdit stretching out our arms to grasp that which we cannot keep, or of wearing out our lives in endeavouring to add new turrets to the fabric of ambition, when the foundation itself is shaking, and the ground on which it stands is mouldering away." It is a melancholy reflection, when we see the vast crowd of human beings moving in all the beauty of life, that the great Subduer of all things will soon erase from the list of living beings, and overwhelm them in their glory, in one mighty and in-distinct heap of destruction. The great and the obscure, the rich man and the pauper, will ail feel the dreadful influence of ois hand-they will fall silently into decay and be thought of no more. A great man is like a wave of the occan, which for a little time raises itself above the surface, but soon sinks again to give place to another, and is lost amid the tumultuous waters by which it is surrounded.

There are many who, in the beginning of life, heed not the moments, as they pass swiftly by them, and who are willing to spend them in idleness and pleasure .-They forget how precious would be those minutes to the sinking mariner, when the dark waters seem closing forever over his

Those who have experienced a feeling of this kind, know there is much importance even in a single minute.

COLLECTANEA

NAVAL ANOMALIES.

The following amusing remarks on this subject, were extracted from the Nantucket Inquirer. A writer in the Monthly Authology, made a smilar collection, but it does not affect the originality of Mr. Jenks' queer notions.]

ty of Mr. Jenks' queer notions.]
How comes it that such gross chronological blunders are admitted into our naval vocabulary? We hear of the Alexander arrived at Boston—a place not known within 2000 years of Alexander's time; and of the Ellerophon in Hazzard's bay, or of the Chopatru of 400 tons burthen, bilged near Tuckernuck. Why are vessels of the femining gender? We read of the King George having the bostoprit—the Queen Charlatte sprung leak—the John Admiss stove in the bulward—and the Lady Alexa chitsel is to belleve the

The geograpical, astronomical and the blunders are off more gross. The United States has put into telmes Hole—the North America hound round fave Horn—the Chesapeake chared out for Loulum—the Massachusetts blown off the coast—the Mediterranean high and dry on Cape Ood—the Atlantic condemned as unseaworthy—the Vesurius capaized in the North Sea—the Free Oceas pluntlered by pirates—the Equator in lat. 60% h.—The Globe burnt at sea—the Zenith seized for a breach of revenue laws—the Mediac in quasantine—the Constellation under jury masts—the North Star shipped a sea on the line—and the Guastitution andergoing repairs!

A few general cases, and we have done. We find the Eagle sailing for the coast of Guinea—the Eolus waiving for a wind—the Dolphin taking whales off linaxii—the Leopard ron down by the Flying Fish:—Phanix unth in the fathoms waster—the Cornue pin short of provisions—the Invincible taken by a Dutch galliot—the Salus with the small pox on board—the Adamant rotting at the wharf—the folden Age sold for the benefit of the underwriters—the Howard with a cargo of Slaves—the Palermus in want of a pilot—not forgetting the Wha-recald-a-thought-it running fout of the Calch-me-af-you-can!

CHOCTAW WITCHES.

CHOCTAW WITCHES.

Rev: Mr. Morely writes from Mayhew to the editor of the Positiney Spectator, that the practice of murdering helpless women upon their being accused of witcheraft, prevails among the Choctaws. Lately one of these poor creatures, learning that sin had been accused, hid herself among the came brakes, where her pursuers at length found her and beat her until she was dead. Another woman, having no knowledge of her danger was found by those who had come to take her life, saleep with her small children. She entreated them to spare her hid and assured them she had injured no one, but all in vain—they put her immediately to death. The missionaries one day found an old woman concealed in a barrel in the chamber for fear of being murdered for witcheraft. The author of these crimes is an old Choctaw Doctor, who tells those who apply to him for aid, that such a one, maning somebody him for aid, that such a one, naming somebody who has displeased him, has bewitched them, The murder of the accused is alm

An address, selected from a Dictionary, by a great Linguist. Soon after the accession of Charles the 2d, he gave audience to an Envoy from the Emperor of Mosocco. The Envoy's great falent was learning languages, and having by grammars and dictionaries acquired a competent knowledge of English, he wros an address to the British Mo-narch, which begins as follows:

"May you long enjoy your present speculation situation, and as a tree was once your royal rossl, may a tree be always ready for your Majesty.—
May you and your counsellors hang together, and may you never want any good thing which can be laid hold of. May all you progen be unimerous as the stars and may the God of our fullers as the stars and may the God of our fullers as the stars, and may the God of our futhers pickle your Majesty until the end of time.'

Finding that to preserve was to pickle, this great linguist thought to pickle must be to pre-

FOR THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ST. ANDREW'S CROSS,

OR, ADA DIRLETON. A TALE OF THE NINTH CENTURY.

here's a Divinity which shape's our ends, ugh how them as we with" limitet, Act 4 Mough hew them as we with." Hamlet, Act 4.

In the reign of Affred of England, a part of Northumberland was granted by that monarch, in one of the predatory incursions frequent in that early period, to Athelstane, a Danish Chieftain, and who visited a village, which, in consequence of that event, bears still the name of Athels aneford. That village was the scene of events which I have converted to my purpose in the formation of the following tale—events which have been noticed by Buchannan, and various other historians.

Having premised thus much, I will now intro duce my readers into the snug apartment, where on a piercing cold evening in January, before a cheerful turf-fire, sat Nicol Dumfrieclaw with his "gude wife," reaping all the benefits that could be derived from a good pot of home-brewed ale, or rather a pot of good home-brewed ale, and a savoury dish of collops, piping hot, from the well-cleaned kettle of that good housewife, Mrs. Jennie Dumfrieclaw. There is something so very peculiar in the fire-side of a Scotch farmer, for such was the aforesaid Nicol, that you find it im-possible to view the ruddy faces of himself and possible to view the rundy faces of himself and family without participating in the content, the enjoyment of which their countenances bespeak. If ever a painter wanted a subject to defineate content, he need have gone no further than the cottage of Dunfrieelaw to have found one. But, as there is no situation in life free from its per-plexities, so there is no individual, however contented, but what may be liable, in their voyage through life, to meet with circumstances calculated to ruffle the smoothness of its ocean; and poor Nicol Dumfrieclaw was doomed to meet lated to ruffle the smoothness of its ocean; and poor Nicol Dumfrieclaw was doomed to meet with one, that rendered even his smaling counte-nance serious, and changed the "sonsie" face of his gude lady to a visage of alarm. This change was effected by a sudden entrance of their girl Pattie, who declared, "by the gude St. Catharine, that the folk had a' gane daft, an' were running aboot, oot o' their hooses, to see the wonder in the heavens abuve." "An' what is the wonder, Pattie, lassie," inquirred the good dame, "that hath mad' ye come in upo' us while takin' a wee bit o' supper by oursels!" "An' it were because," returned Pattie, "that I wad na along wi' them. I hae no desire to hae my wits freeghtened oot o' me wi' luxing upo' a galberlunzie." 'the sky." "Ginde Laird be wi' us, "cried Nicol, who now contrived to edge in a word, "wha kens what may happen! But bide a wee bit, gude wife, an' I will gang myse!' and see this galberlunzie." "Stop, gude man," cried the dame, "an' I will gie ye a bit o' the rope that wild Jarvie was hung wi'—'twill keep the warlocks frae ye." "It is nae matter, dame—its nae matter; ye shall hear a' aboot the wonder." So saying, the farmer went away, leaving Pattie and the dame, to make their comments upon this So saying, the farmer went away, leaving Pattie and the dame, to make their comments upon this and the dame, to make their comments upon this extraordinary event, while he went to see if the fact was actually in ease.

"An" ye were a fule, Pattie Macpherson," said the dame, as her husband closed the door, "ye were a great fule, not to gang wi' the folk to see the warlock." "Hoot, hoot dame; it was nae mair a warlock than I, whilk wi' God's ban, I be not; but Saunders Wylie says its St. Andrew's Cross in the sky." "He's a fule, Pattie," said the dame; "I wad as belies any thing o' the in the Gulf of Mexico—and the beam ends.

It is all more gross. The United States burner Hole and political limited by the same of the constitution of the constitutio frac the land when he comes." "Gutle Heaven save us," ejaculated the dume, "it is a sair pity when puir folk canna' bide in peace, without sceing our braithers an' bairns murthered before our cen."

The little cottage of Dumfriedaw pury became the habitation of alarm, rather than content, and the family went to rest, for the first time, with hearts ill at case.

Dirleton, the Laird of the Manor, was the father of an only child, a beauteous girl of eighteen.

Dirleton, the Laird of the Manor, was the father of an only child, a beauteous girl of eighteen. In her earlie it youth, her father had taken a boy from Dumfrieclaw, whom he adopted as a companion for his Ada, and who was but a few years her senior. The parents of this boy he could never discover, and in addition to the name of Malcolm, which he bore, he gave him that of Dunhar. He was to Ada as a brother-mobile, generous and humane; and as the young Malcolm grew up in beauty to manhood, so did the affections of Ada Dirleton increase towards him. The Laird at first seemed to sanction this growaffections of Ada Directon instruction this grow-ing and reciprocal attachment; but, when Hun-gus, king of the Piets, was introduced to Ada, that dignitary, although advanced in years, be-came comoured of her, and the Laird, sacrificcame trainfoured of her, and the Laird, sacrific-ing principle to ambition, resolved, should the offer be made, to sacrifice the lovely Ada to the ferocious Pict. The fact of a large part of Nor-thumberland, and that in which the village was tunmorrand, and that in which the vinage was situated, having been granted to Athelstane, the Dane, was now confirmed, and his arrival at the village was hourly expected. It was resolved by Hungus and the Laird Dirleton, that, with the assistance of Achaius, king of the Scots, they would endeavour to expel the unwelcome Intru der: and, after the battle, Hungus, as a reward of valour, should receive the band of Ada. Measures were immediately taken to meet the Messures were immediately taken to meet the Dane; and, for the first time since his adoption, Malcolm was to leave the dwelling of the Laird, and go to battle. It was not long before these circumstances were communicated to Ada, who in grief sought her favourite bower. The idea of becoming the bride of Hungup was too dreadful to be supported, and though winter had robbed her retreat of its verdure, yet she preferred it to the roof which sheltered her persecutor. Closely drawing her plaid around her, she bent her steps towards the bower; as she approached it, she heard the sound of a harp, with the melody of which she recognized the bold, yet well-modulated voice of Malcolm, in the following song, to which she paused to listen:

"Bower of her I love, adicu! Perhaps, alas! forever; No more perhaps I'll gaze on you, Tho' I'll forget thee never! To battle now, from thee I fly, At morning's early hour; And if I fall, e'en as I die, I'll think on thee, sweet bower.

Maiden I adore, adieu! I'm lost if I resign thee;
'Twould kill me, as I gaze on you.
To see my foe entwine thee! Yet, the my dearest girl we part,
I'll think on thee forever;
In war or peace my sedent heart,
Will ne'er forget thee—never!

As the song concluded, Ada, to her surprise, ound herself at the entrance of the bower. It was now too late to retreat, and she suffered herself to be led to a retreat within, by the fond Malcolm. "And does Ada seek this place," cried the youth, "even when its beauties have deserted it? Is it hallowed and endeared to he deserted it? Is it nanowed and endeared to be-as it is to me?" "Can Malcolm doubt it," re-plied the maiden, "that a place which has been the seat of our childhood and our happiness, could fail to interest me? Believe it not. The scenes of childhood, shared, as mine have been with one for whom my esteem has increased with my years, has made an impression on my heart so rooted and indelible, that this bower, even when chrystalized by the icy hand of winter, or moss-covered by time, becomes the chief. when cirrystatized by the rey hand of winter, or moss-covered by time, becomes the object of in-terest and veneration." "Ada, dear Ada!" cried Malcolm, "your language flatters and de-lights me; but why does melancholy shade your features? You are not wont to be so.? "Maiwretchedness. Hungus -" No more Ada, for mercy's sake! Do not confirm the tale which I have heard in the mouth of every vil-Is it to Hungus I must resign thee lager! so, Ada, dear Ada, farewell forever!" sword of the impassioned youth was drawn, and aimed at his breast. With a shrick Ada sprang amed at his breast. With a shrick Ada sprang from her seat and arrested his arm, exclaming, "Forbear! Malcolm, or you will break my heart. Hear me while I swear, by all that is dear to me on earth or in Heaven, I will never become the bride of Heaven." on earth or in Heaven, I will never become the bride of Hungus!" "Enough, dear Ada," said Malcolm, "but why need I wait until the hour of battle approaches!—I shall then be forced to leave thee. Let us now fly: we will be united, and live in calm retirement." "No, Malcolm," replied Ada; "to such a measure I will not consent. Go to battle, your happens calls you and sent. Go to battle: your honour calls you, and my heart forbids your stay." "I will go then, Ada," said Malcolm, "go cheerfully, since it meets your stay increase will soon arise, and our ference will soon arise, and our forces will soon meet Athelstane. haps ere to-morrow eve your Malcolm may slum-ber with the dead " "Embitter not," returned Ada, "the hour of parting: that time has arrived; the eastle bell tolls the hour of rest to its inmates. Malcolm"—she faultered; but with the exertion characteristic of a strong mind, she added, "Farewell! farewell!" The youth embracded, "Farewell! Arewell!" The youth embraced her, and repeated the parting word; and having led her to the eastle door, he left her, and she sought the pillow of repose.

The morn at length arrived, and Athelstane entered the village, and was met by the hostide forces of Hungus. Little expecting such a greeting, the Dane railled his alarmed soldiers, and a desperate rather than a well-regulated battle ensued. Malcolm Dunbar was in the thickest of the fight, while Hungus dragging Athelstane from his horse, slew him. The result was victory to the Picta and soits. Among the slain, left on the field, was follow, supposed to be so likewise; while the triumphant flungus returned to claim Ada as his row.

Quiet having heen mestored, we will now return to our old friend, Nicol Daufricelaw, who left his lowly cottage to arrest the field of battle.

When it first met the view of the honest farmer, as wald not help excellent, who have it are the required that the enquired them.

sair sight in a christian hind, where mony a mon has gane to their hang hance of year lies a Dane, and here is a pair body of a had, by St. Andrew is mainting. What he are said I may do the puir soul markle services tak' him hanc, for I can easy him like he. So saying, he 'fried they parth, (whom my have no doubt recognized ere this as his Dunbar,) and wended his way towards his cottage; and was not by the dame, who we ded every assistance in her power. The moof Malcolm were, though deep, saiding and with careful norsing and quiet, (the herself being a sort of village doctress.) May was, sin the course of three waeks, whin again." Seated around the blasing fire, as Nicola hearth, the conversation turned the marriage of the Laird's daughter to Hungashad been delayed on account of the manual the next evening was fixed for the calculation, he vehemently cried, "Would that she died in her illness, rather than have lived to a sacrifice! But never! sever! shall she with Hingus." "What gars the bearn!" the dame: "the mair's the pity that sid a ding should happen. King Hungus kems enow that he has his Leddy in a crimeent, he put her; an' a' for his ill blaid m' jealou." "Can you confirm this?" enquired Malcole "Reith weel, I can," returned the dame. Is some twa and tu anty years lang syne, whe lived w' the Leddy Alice, whom Hungus "Can you confirm this?" enquired Maccalis some twa and twanty years larg syne, whited wi' the Leddy Alice, whom Haugus sand wedded. I nursed her when she had born, wha they called Halbert. I bided with till the hairn was three years old, whan then a Knight came, wha tell in lave vi' Leddy, who was as pure as the mass moontain. This did tank' Hungus see each that he slew the Knight, and sent his sea, to convent, and he himself went awa', leaving bairn unprotected, and sin' then he has asked about him. I take the boy, an' she was five years o' age, this Laird Dirleton in him up to the Gastle, to play wi' the wee the Ada, to whom Hungus is to be married. Oh, was a fine bairn, an' weel should I like to him. But I ha e ne'er laid cen upo' him su'll day the Laird take him free me." "And whome was it by which the boy was caffed." "The father o' him I id me ca' him Malcola an' it was your name brought the puir bairs my mind: he must be now about your age? Having gained this information, to which Mocolin listened with eager interest, he enquired the dance." If she would know the box are iny nand: he must be now anout your age. Having gained this information, to which Milcolm listened with eager interest, he enquired the dame, "If she would know the boy again should she ever see him?" "I would know the boy again should she ever see him?" "I would know the boy again which shaded his, "by a mole on his fore shaped like a heart." "What! like this Milcolm; and brushing away the raven which shaded his forehead, he exhibited the male spoken of by Jennie. "Gude Lord! "I have been the mole spoken of by Jennie. "Gude Lord! "I have been the mole spoken of a parent." Weel, strange things happen now astays," and Nicol, who now spoke; "it was a gude bour levent to the field, sin' it was to save the power Laird. An' how fared ye at the Castle?"

Malcolm related all that he had undergone subsequently to his adoption by Diricton, adder that "I was surely Providence that had directed Nicol to the field; not only to preserve my feature to the head means of discovering my parentage of which, till now, I was in otter increase."

But to be the means of discovering my parer of which, till now, I was in utter ignorance have a faint remembrance of some one to have a faint remembrance of some one taking me from my home, and the recollection herance stronger as your story, my kind dame, proceeded. One fayour I have now to ask, and that in, you will both accompany me to-morrow to the Caxle. My happiness depends upon my presence at Ada's muttals." "To be sure we will," said the dame: "sure the whole village is to gang up there to the merry-making. Sie like doings there bath has been for meny a day lang syne."

The trio now retired respectively to rest. The trio now retired respectively to rest. The discovery made to Malcolm was of a nature so sudden and unexpected, as to preclude the probability of his enjoying the luxury of sleep, impatiently did he await the arrival of the moraing, which at length came, and the inhabitants of the cottage set out for Dirleton Castle, where the cottage set out for Dirleton Castle, where the cottage set out for Diriction Castle, where they arrived as the sun sank to rest in the wes-tern horizon. It was the hour fixed for Ada's nuptials, which were to be celebrated in the great hall of the Castle, where, between two great hall of the Castle, where, between two massive pillars, a temporary altar was erected. Behind one of these pillars, Malcolm found means to secrete himself, and Nicol and Jennie were placed near him. The ball was filled with the villagers, dressed in their holiday mits, and gazing on the new seene which surrounded them, Presently a cry of "the king—the bride, and the lairds," and soon after the bridal party appeared. The bride was literally carried to the altar. She gazed wildly about her, and seemed unconscious of any thing that was passing. Upon tineonscious of any thing that was passing. Upon being asked as to her willingness of accepting Hungus for a husband, she stamped furiously, and shricked, "Never!—never!" The vilagers gazed in amazement. The enraged father bade the Clerryman proceed. and shrives an amazement. The enraged father bace the Clergyman proceed: when a graceful figure, emerging from behind a pillar, loudly exclaimed, "I forbid this marriage!" "There—there," cried the frantic Ada—"Malcolm Dunbar rises from his grave to forbid it! Malcolm, will you not, when you return, take me with you to the tomb, where none can sever us?" The Laird, tomb, where none can sever us?" The Laird, giving way to the suspicion of the times, shrank giving way to the suspicion of the times, shrank-from the supposed spectre; while even Hangus recoiled from it app lied. "I am no spectre," said Malcolm, leading forward Nicol and Jennie. "I was miraculously saved from death by these kind people. I am here to claim Ada as my bride, and ask King Hangus, openly, in this assembly and ask King Hungus, openly, in this assembly, to acknowledge his son." "My son!" created Hungus. "Where is he?" "You may remember." continued Malaylar. Hangus. "Where is he?" "You may remember," continued Malcoln, "the Lady Alice, your wife, had a nurse, in whose care you left your son, when, having placed your wife in a convent, you left your home?" "I do—I do!" said Hungus." "Does he still live?" "That chill the Laird Director, adapted—that child was reared with Ada. a Does he still live? That child the Laird Dir-leton adopted—that child was reared with Ada, and adores her—that child followed you to battle, and now kneels to you, craving in this assem-blage, your blessing—infreating you to forbear blage, your blessing intrea Hardened, indeed, must have been the heart

Hardened, indeed, must have occur the near that could have withstood such an appeal. Over-come with contending emotions, Ada had fainted in the arms of Malcolm, who, while he knelt with his fainting burthen on one arm, with the other pointed to the bad of beauty on her cheek, the bloom of which had been chased away by grief, but seemingly remained unimpaired by its abbloom of which had been chased away by grief, bloom of which had been chased away by grief, but seemingly remained unimpaired by its absence. "Rise, my son," cried Hungus, "no longer Malcolm. Rise, Halbert; my blessing is thine. Thus publicly do I acknowledge thee and resign Ada—while I sanction thy union with her."

Malcolm received the blesses of his father and presented to him his presented them of his gratitude; and in a surround them of his gratitude; and in a the enquiry of Jenne, told her that "lo bred the beauty of the was and day drd, who, with Hungus. at all the facts which I have taken the connecting with the above tale, will be the lat vol. of a work entitled "The of Scotland," page 145.

ALCANZOR.

Curopean Intelligence.

The House of Lards re-assembled on the 28th of April, but no discussion arose upon any subject. The Earl of Harowby and Lord Hexley were the ealy Cabinet Ministers present. Petitions were presented from Societies of Freemanns in Ireland, praying to be excupted from the operation of so not lately passed for the suppression of secret societies. In both Houses hearty aimdominations of orange societies and ribbon societies have been pronounced by all parties.—This is a tone of feeling towards Ireland which has not long prevailed, but which must be halled by the friends of that unhappy country, as ominous of some good.

ons of some good.

Mrs. Pry, who, like an angel of mercy, is always doing good, has founded an institution called the Guardian Society, for the reception of reduced definates. At the anniversary which was arbitrated on the 28th, the Reverend Rowland clebrated on the 28th, the Reverend Rowland lift sent a five pound note, with a letter stating that he thought such a note better than a speech; and revarking, that speeches on those occasions were apt to be too long.

A Smyrus paper states that the city of Pollieri has been the theatre of a sanguinary catastrophe; eighty four Greeks have been massacred there. A Turk in returning from the city fell from his horse, and was wounded in the body by his own cutless. Heing brought back, he was lodged in a house, which in a little time was surrounded by an infuriate mob, ealing aloud for an account of the affair. The Turk honestly declared, in vain, that he was wounded in his fall by his own cutan infuriate mob, calling aloud for an account of the affair. The Turk honestly declared, in vain, that he was wounded in his fall by his own cut-lass. The people cried aloud that he had been waylaid by the Greeks, and regardless of his as-surtion to the contrary, they set about taking summary vengeance. Every Greek that they nict in the street they slew, nor had his carnage ceased until the victims were as elled to the num-ber above stated. These transactions took place on the 17th and 18th of February, but on the where was in some measure restored.

Love's a curious thing.—A young lady, 18 years of age, beautiful, and sole heirens of a deceased baronet, with a fortune of £30,000, lately runaway from Brussels, with an English gentleman named Robinson. They went post haste to Grettin Green, got married, set off for London, taking the whole of the hands of the mail coach to themselves.

A deplorable accident occurred on the 10th at Rombiant near Befort. An explosion took place in the coal mines, by which twenty persons, amongst whom was the owner, suffered death.—
Pourteen workmen were also taken out dangenew Romance, by the Great Known Un-n of the North, has been announced to the on booksellers at a tendy sale at the Albion The story is Scottish, and the incidents the believe are supposed to have happened about the year 1760, fifteen years after the rebellion.—

Pour thousand copies of the work were bespoke on this occasion. One great house alone, in Patermeter-row, subscribed for 900. Two volumes this remance are actually printed off.

John Home Parves, Esq. is appointed consulEast and West Florids, to reside at Pensa-

Bultan, ordering his Musschnen subjects pain of death, to deliver up the gold and under pain of death, to deliver up the gold and silver which they may possess, is executed with an much rignor that a few, who had evaded the order, has been executed at Salonica. The Jews offered in vain 200,000 pinsure for his ransom.

A German paper says, the Pope has made an additional grant of 24,000 dollars annually to the Congregation de propaganda fide, for the special parpose of crecouraging the progress of the Catholic religion in the United States of America.

We regret to find that the celebrated traveller Helzoni, has fallen a victim to discase in the very outset of his enterprize. He died at Henia on the 2d of December last, on his route to Housa d Timbuctoo. This intrepid traveller, at the ne of his death, had every thing arranged with the King for his departure.

Mr. Bisquier, the active and intelligent agent of the Greek Committee, has lately embarked from Portamouth, the bearer of forty thousand pounds

Letters have been received from Constantinople Letters have been received from Constantinople, dated the 20th uit, which state that a vessel had been taken by the Turks, having on board a large sum of money, and a quantity of baggage, &c. behasing to Lord Byron, but that on an application from Lord Strangbord, claiming it as English properly, the whole was given up.

Such is the forward state of the public business, that it is calculated the recognition of Parlament.

that it is calculated the prorogation of Pathament will take place as early as the 15th of June, It is said that the king will visit the Continent

14 July.
The British Government has received intelle-The British Government has received intelligence from the Cape of Good Hope, which annumers the capture of a Spanish slave ship, the Virgin, of 14 guns, and a crew of 130 men, by the Haraconta shoot of war. It appears that the Spanish ship was fallen in with by the Baraconta shortely after the latter left. Algon Bay, and regularly attacked. The captain of the Virgin, however, refused to submit until several of his crew were killed. The Baraconta then took possession of hersaided. The Barsenota then took possession of her, and carried her to the Cape. Between 300 and 50 states were found on heard the prize.

The pupulation of London, at the last census, rasil, 274,000.

There is now exhibiting in

There is now exhibiting in Boston, a mermaid, brought from the coast of Japan. Persons who have seen this new comer, my that its appearance corresponds with the description given of this and find in fabricus history.

Letters from Constantinople state that the Sultantian and the content of the present of the state o tan makes great exertion in preparing an army on makes great exertion in preparing an army of 90,000 men for the Morea.

On the 18th of April, near Bayonne, during a remember of a fish, measuring 52 feet in anoth, was east on the shore. This monstrous simal is covered with a skin like that of a loar, animal is covered with a skin like that of a quarand has a mouth so especious as to admit six perteria Riolle gives a singular account of the distinction of one of hisben's pictures in the beacem. Some days previously to the event, M.

de Purbin, the Director of the Museum, received as annewed a letter from an individual, who said that the those rament having caused him to sustain a loss of 30,000 france, he would destroy, one after the other, all the pictures in the Museum, if the loss of 20/100 france, he would destroy, one after the other, all the pictures in the Museum, if the sum in question was not brought to him at an ap-pointed blass. M. Pranchot, of the Pulica, also, varived a similar letter; but, thinking it the not all and the desire and the present attached to i had a fee days after, a person couples educate the control of the desire, and the latest are of the facult of desire, and approximately been tern to pieces. The deem of the latest are to pieces. The deem of Harver of Conscience.—In Scotland, a man lately acknowledged on his death bed, that he had murdered a woman in England, whom, after cobing of her harvest fee, he threw into a pit; and that he had killed a man in the neighbourhood of Markinch, and thrown his body into the water. The hody of the man said to have been murdered, was actually found a number of years since. When his end drew near, he was so horrified by the consciousness of his guilt, that he told the the consciousness of his guilt, that he told the neighbours who came in, that the apparitions of the two persons whose lives he had taken, were waiting for him at the foot of his bed.

A Steamboat accident is announced as follows:

—While the Monarch steam-packet was on her voyage from Boulogne to Dover the machinery of one of the engines got out of order. The Engineer, alarmed by the impending danger, for an instant lost his presence of mitd and ran on deck but recovering himself rashed to his post. In the interin the pistons had forced up the deck, and a similar action downwards being apprehended, the passengers gave themselves up for lost. Some were braised in lowering th boat in which to escape; but fortunately the En gineer reached the engine in time to open the valve and use the other necessary means by which that destruction, which a moment before stares all in the face, was averted.

In the British Liouse of Lords, on the 2d April the Marquess of Lansdowne introduced a bill, proposing that, after the publication of bans in the usual form in the Parish Church, persons of the Unitarian persuasion should be allowed to have marriages solemnized in their own places of have marriages solemnized in their own places or worship (these places being registered as such for a year at least) and by a minister of their own denomination. The privileges they were denied under the existing laws. The Archbishop of Canterbury observed that he was friendly to the accord reading of the bill, "trusting that they might be able, in the committee, to make such restraints and restrictions as would make it a measure, which, while in the first instance, it consulted the conscientious scruples of the Unitarians, should, in the second instance, give the necessary security to the Pretestant Church at large." The Lord Chancellor, Eldon, opposed the bill, being hostile to the principle of the measure. There was a majority of two in favor of the second reading, and the bill was committed. Bell's Weekly Messenger observes—"We think it will not be carried, unless under such restrictions as will wholly destroy its efficacy." worship (these places being registered

Mr. Canning, in his late speech in the House of Commons of Great Britain, on the Alien Bill, that is, a bill empowering Ministers to send suspicious foreigners out of England by a more summary process than is allowed by the laws of the land, thus explains the different policy by which the United States are governed:

"Let us look at the two kindred British states, than the clinical in summy though divided by instituted in summy though divided by institute in summy though the summy though the summy though the summy though the summy than the summy though the summy though the summy though the summy though the summy than the summy than the summy than the summy than the summy though the summy than the summy that the summy than the summy that the summy thad the summy than the summy that the summy than the summy than th happily joined in amity, though divided by insti-tutions, which now occupy, perhaps, a greater space than any others in the eyes of the world. No honorable gentleman will contend that, what-ever may be the liberties of America, for which I ever honour her, there is not here as substantial there is not here as substantial liberty as exists in that country, (Hear, and that the monarchy of England fosters rather than oppresses its freedom. (Hear, hear, hear.) But is there any thing more different than the policy of America from that of England, with respect to strangers, from the facility of naturalization in the one case to the jeulousy of admission in the other? The contrast between Great Britain and old subjects safe tries to require new constitutions. old subjects—she tries to acquire new ones: difference lies between the policy of a new ciple which is asserted by the honorable gentle man on the other side to be a flagrant inconsis-tency, and a glaring proof of the degeneracy of the British name and character."

LONDON FEMALE FASHIONS-FOR MAY

Marning Dress.—Dress of jaconet muslin; the corsage made high and very full; the fulness tongetudnially and regularly arranged by five bands, each formed of four or five small cords, or bobbins, and edged on each side with narrow work; two of the bands terminate at the arm; the next widen from the centre of the waist, and extend over the shoulder, where they turn and meet about half way down the back. The sleeve is of an easy fulness; the epaulette slashed and interlaced with amber-coloured ribbon; between is a row of quadrangular bouffants. The and interaced with amore-coloured ringon; be-tween is a row of quadrangular bouffants. The cuff is neatly trimmed with a hobbinett band and worked ruffle, and an ornament to correspond with the trimming of the skirt, which has a deep wreath, of a fanciful and novel form, apparently confined to the dress, by entwining an ambre coonfined to the dress, by entwining an amber co oured ribbon, which forms the lower part into triangles; the upper becomes more pointed, and extends transversely about a quarter of a yard. the whole is transacd with narrow work. Work-ed muslin ruff to correspond, drawn with gauze ribbon. Cap of sprigged net; the border of are two on each side, where bows of amber and blac gauze ribbon are introduced. The crown circular, and ornamented with a narrow roued sitk shoes.

Eccaring Costume .- Dress of pink crape lisse with a very full and broad bonilonne puckering, of the same material, next the hem; this pucker-ing is confined by bands, formed of very narrow pink antin rouleaux. Above this trimining are live common tucks, lying one over the other they are rather broad, and are each edged with a narrow rouleau of pink article. they are rather broad, and are each edged with a narrow rouleau of pink satin. The corsage is a la savigne; and on the back are crussed Spanish bracers of pink satin, edged with narrow and vandyke blond. A pearl batton fastens the benefind drapery, both in the centre of the bust, and at the back part of the tucker, between the shoulders. The sheeves are pink crape, short and full; and are ornamented downwards, but not confined, by narrow rouleaux of pink satin, to correspond; bouilloane ornament at the hornot confined, by harrow routeaux of pink satin, to correspond; bouillonne ornament at the border. The hair is arranged in the ancient from a style, a la Faustina; and profusely scattered over with full blown Provence roses. Ear-rings and necklace of pearls; the latter of an entirely new pattern, and most excellent workmanship. White satin shape, and excellent workmanship. atin shoes, and carved ivory fan.

INCREASE OF POPULATION

A few days since, a genterman remarked to his friend, that in the year 1791, he was elected aupervisor of Whitestown, is the county of Oneida, New York; that at that time the whole population was about 1800 erools; that the same territory which was embraced in the town at that time now constitutes FIFTERN GOUNTERS, the present population of which in nearly live hundred thousand. So unprecedented an increase of papulation, in the period of Abirty three years, will give an interesting view of the growth of the same of New York. INCREASE OF POPULATION nah.

New-York—Prochorn Garretsen, Peter P. Sundford, Duniel Ostrander, Nathan Bangs, Samuel Merwin, Ebenezer Wahlburn, Harvin Richardson, Laban Clark, Samuel Luchey, Arnold Socificki, Henry Stead, John B. Strate, Phineas Rice, Eben Smith, William Ross, Stepen Martindale.

New England—George Pickering, Timothy Merrit, Enoch Mudge, Ebenestr Blake, J. A. Merrill, Edward Hyde, John Lyndsey, Eleazer Wells, Ben. R. Hoyt, Wilber Tist, Elisha Streeter, David Kilburn, John W. Mardy, Elijah Hedding.

Genessee-Isanc B. Smith, Jonathan Ho Genessee—Isaac B. Smith, Jonathan Hoestis, Loring Grant, Joseph Baker, Wystt Chamberlayne, George Harmon, Seth Matison, Benjanin G. Paddock, J. Alverson, William Snow, James Hall, Gideon Lanning, George W. Densmore, Fitch Reed, George Peck, Israel Chamberlayne, Ohio—Jacob Young, James B. Findley, Martin Ruter, David Young, J. Strange, R. Biggelow, G. R. Jones, James Quin, Charles Waddle, J. F. Wright, John Sale, G. Eliott, J. Waterman. Kentucky—John Brown, Jonathan Stanger, Richard Corwin, W. Holman, Charles Holiday, S. A. Muzris, George Welvell, Peter Cartwright, J.

Morris, George McNelly, Peter Cartwright, J ohnson, J. C. Light, Marcus Lindsey.

Beauchamp, David Sharp, S. H. Thompson, canesse—T. L. L. Doughless, Wm. McMahon, Tevis, Robert Paine, Thompson, Tennessee—T. L. L. Dougniess, W. Madden, H. John Tevis, Robert Paine, Thomas Madden, H. H. Brown, Thos. Stringfield, Joseph Kilpatrick, H. Brown, Thos. Stringfield, Joseph Kilpatriol George Ekin. Musissippi—Wan. Winans, Daniel de Vinne

Mississippi—V Mexander Sale. South Carolina-Lewis Myers, Wm. M. Ken-

South Curolina—Lewis Myers, Wm. M. Kennedy, S. K. Hodges, J. O. Andrew, William Capers, Joseph Travis, Nicholas Talley, H. Bass, Samuel Dunwody, L. Pierce, James Norton.

Virginia—Hezekiah G. Leigh, Caleb Leech, Lewis Skidmore, W. Compton, Henry Holmes, B. Devancy, E. Drake, John C. Ballew, John Lattimare.

Wells, Stephen G. Rozell, J. Frye, Christophe Frye, Daniel Hitt, H. Smith, James McCann, Hemphill, Richard Tydings, Robert Burch, nas, John Baer. Thomas, John Baer.

Philudelphia—Ezekiel Cooper, Laurence Mc
Combs, Thomas Ware, James Smith, John Smith,
A. White, C. Pittman, J. Rustling, J. Potts, J.
Neal, Jacob Moore, Manning Force, Laurence

CLE, of the Bultimore Conference, and the Rev

Happing of the N. England Conference By the creation of five new annual Conference the number of the whole is augmented to seven

Beehip Compendium.

A duel was fought yesterday morning, oppor-fort Mifflin, by a Lieut, in the regular army an militia officer. The former had his thigh broken Washington Irving, has published one of his new works, entitled "Tales of a Traveller."

Capt. Evans, of the Navy, at N. Vork, died sud-enly on Wednesday last, by bursting a blood-The U. S. sloop of war Pescock, after bein out a few days, was struck by lightning, and had four men killed, and several severely burned. The New York Gazette says, the arrival of the Vice President at his seat on Staten Island, was announced by the discharge of cannon.

A lad was drowned in the Schuylkill on Satur

A hd was drowned in the Schaykill on Saturday afternoon. Immediately after his body was found, attempts were made to resuscitate life, but they proved ineffectual.

About 11 o'clock on Sunday morning last, a fire was discovered in the Woollen Cloth Manufactory belonging to William L. Pissura, Esq. mear Germantown, in the county of Philadelphia. It burned with great violence until the Germantown engines were brought to act upon it, wher the progress of the devouring element was ar rested, and nearly one half of that valuable build rested, and nearly one nail of that variable of the sing saved.

The great trotting match of three miles on the Jamaica Turnpike, took place at one o'clock on Tuesday. The Philadelphia horse beat the New-York mare Betsy Haker, about 100 yards. Time 8 minutes and 42 seconds. The same horse trotted 12 miles over the same turnpike last summer, in 39 minutes.

A Camp Meeting will be held in the groves, it y of Tuckerton, N. J. to com 10th and close the 15th June, inst.

The U. S. Bank has taken the whole of the Five Million Stock just authorised by Congress, at par. This stock hears at interest of 44 per cent, and is redeemable after 1823 at pleasure of government.

The frost which occurred last week was a verely felt by the tender vegetables in New Jer ey and many parts of the country.

It is stated the Haytien Government in conse quence of a proposition from the government of France, has recently sent to France three ac-credited persons, to make a treaty, offensive and defensive for the purpose of towing up merchant vessels to that port, is found to equal the most sanguine expectations.

expectations.

Aship News.—Among other lists of cargoes, in the Nantucket Inquirer of Tuesday, we find the following. "Arrived, sleop Henry, from Falmouth; passengers, 4 ladies, 3 musicians, 1 lion, 1 lains, 1 Shechand poney, a monkey, a baboon, and two lawyers."

Viluia apprehended.—Sewel T. Mack, who was lately advertised for running away with the daughter of the lady with whom he boarded, leaving his wife behind him, has been arrested, at Amsterdam, Montgomery Co. Md. and com-at Amsterdam, Montgomery Co. Md. and com-mitted to prison. He married the girl he rau off with, and she has returned to her mother totally pistol to his breast, while standing in the street, and put an instant period to his existence.

On Wednesday, Mr. Richard Bishop, of Fell's Point, Baltimore, deliberately applicated to his breast, while standing in my in the street.

Lucky Escape.—On Saturday last, the laborers in the cellars of some buildings to be erected at the corner of William and Liberty streets, in the city of New-York, were startled by the cracking of the windows in a two-story wooden house, should be supported by the cracking out of the way with all possible speed, escaped being crushed under the ruins of the tenement, which fell to the ground from which they effected their retreat.

which fell to the ground from which they effected their retreat.

The collections for the sufferers by fire at New Castle have been promptly remitted, as deposits were made at the Bank of Pennsylvania. A final remittance being in contemplation, it is respectfully requested that the Ward and District Committees, will please to may balances, where any fully requested that the Ward and District Committees, will please to pay balances, where any remain, in the course of the present week.

A Norwich (Gonn.) paper states that a Mr. David Evans, while chopping in the woods near that place, felled a hallow tree, which contained from four to eight themsend auxiliance? They were of the kind commonly denominated the wood awallow, and were in the turpled state when discovered.

past, on account of the praprietors by wages since the passing of the tariff ducing the time hitherto allowed at meals. All the factories except one hut up during the time.

A patent for generating high pressure steam thout a boiler, has been taken out by Joh Rahcock, of Portsmouth, R. L.

Josiah Stolt, the young man in New Brussion, for the murder of his wife, has tern his earthly career by hanging himself in a ly employed in excavating the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal.

elaware Canal.

A board of Engineers are about to proceed, by irection of the president and in conformity with A nonress to represent and in conformity with direction of the president and in conformity with a law passed at the last session of Congress to survey the proposed route of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.

Mr. Peter Barlow has received the Pariamentary premium conferred by the Board of Longitude, of five hundred pounds for his discovery in correcting the attraction of vessels:

DE WITT CLINTON, Eaq. has been presented with a dinner set of Liverpool ware, from Utien, N.Y. the same never having been landed from the time of its shipment at Liverpool until received at its place of destination, on the river Mohawk. The ware is adorned with inacriptions and devices, commemorative of the "meeting of the waters," and bears pirtured testimonials of the public spiris and talents of him whose labours they delineate. Orders for merchandise have been transmitted from several of the merchants at Ution, direct to Liverpool.

BUELLING:—A duel was fought in New Orleans, some time since-between a SERTON of one of the burying grounds, and an assi-tant GRAVE Drooks. The latter received a flesh wound in the thigh upon the first fire, but not fancying that entirely satisfactory, then took another round, in which the gentleman received a shot in the thigh bone, which proved a quierw. The affair originated in a dispute upon the very important matter of grave digging? DUELLING !- A duel was fought in New Or Trial for Murder.—On Priday last, Perez Anthony was tried at Boston, in the Circuit Court of the United States, for the murder of Theodore Stodder, on the high seas. It was proved that on the 24th day of January last, on board a vessel hing in the Bay of Honduras, the prisoner apparently in a violent fit of passion, in consequence of some slight provocation received some hours previous, loaded a two-barrelled gun and dis charged it at Stodder, and caused his immediate death. The defence of the prisoner was conducted by Beniamin R. Nichols, and John Brazer death. Inc detence of the prisoner was con-ducted by Benjamin R. Nichols, and John Brazer Davis, Esqrs. The facts were very clearly proved by several witnesses. The jury returned a ver-dict of guilty.

Earthquake at Jamaica.- A most tremendous Earliquake at Jamaica.—A most tremendous shock of an earthquake was felt at Kingston on the 10th April, which caused great alarm among the inhabitanta, who simultaneously rushed from their houses. Immediately after the shock had subsided, the Spanish and Portuguese and English and German Churches were opened, and immediately filled by persons of all sects, cager to return thanks to the Almighty for their escape from anch immigrated danger. Several houses man. to return thanks to the Almighty for their escape from such imminent danger. Several houses sustained injury. The earthquake was felt with great force at Spanish Town and Old Harbour There was a second severe shock on the night of the 13th, and a slight one on the morning of the 14th.

New Orleans, May 12 .- A case of Yellow Fe ver will be reported to the board of health. Mr. Gales, a creole and inhabitant of St. Doming a resident of New Orleans for about 18 year a rendent or New Orriens for about 18 years back, is the unfortunate victim on which the dreadful scourge has begun its work of destruction. We at first doubted the fact that Mr. Gales had died with the yellow fever, but it is now beyond any doubt. We received the intelligence from several persons who had it from the physicians who attended him, and hear, moreover, that had company the hear received. over, that last evening the body was opened in the presence of a number of professional gentle-men, who all agreed that the case was a complete one of yellow fever.

The thirty-three West India Islands ntain an aggregate of 105,000 square miles; 460,000 whites: 1,600,000 mulattoes and blacks; 2,050,000 total popula Fifteen of these Islands belong to Britain, five to France, three to Spain, three to Denmark, four to the Dutch, one to Sweden, one to the Columbians, one inde-

Most of the Members of Congress took their departure from Washington City immediately after, and not a few of them before the adjournment. There remained in the city but fifteen or twenty, most of whom were detained by busi-

Perhaps it is no more tuan one respect, any the National Intelligencer, to the gentlemen who are before the People as Candidates for the Presidency, particularly to notice the time and manner of their departure. In that sentiment, we mention, that General Jackson left here direct a due respect, savi for home, a day or two before the adjournment and that Mr. Clay left the city on Friday morn ing, also for his residence.

The London Magazine, for April, says of Ma

The London Magazine, for April, says of Machews' Trip to America—

"On the first night the house was crowded with curious English and curious Americans.—
The tone and temper in which the merry tourist tells of his travels were such as to delight both teria or his travan were such as to delight bott sides—and yet to shake them! Indeed, we are disposed to believe that Mathews' entertainment is more likely to conciliate the two nations that a thousand books, though written by a thousand men as kind and elever as Washington Irving."

Mr. Perkins,-The London Monthly lagezine of April 1st, says that "Mr. Perkins has not yet finished his steam engine, but he has accidentally discovered that the force of the steam as it escape from his generator, is greater than the explosion of gunpowder. He has therefore applied it to the discharge of bullets from gun barrels, and has found that he thus can discharge bullets as fast as they can be dropt into the line of force; and by using more than one barrel, his generato has discharged 300 bullets per minute This appears to be a discovery pregnan with important consequences."

Public Diseases.—The College edifice at flur-lingion, Vt. was destroyed by five on the morn-ing of Thutsday last, caused by a spack dropping on the spec. The libraries, and a pact of the op-paratus were saved, as well as most of the ste-dents banks and furniture. State helitings will be limbt by second as some a parallel were li-ther than the second of the college of the crops of cotton on the uplead, are the weather has been remarkable climate, since the latter end of has very dult."

New Orleans Journals to the its May, state, that the plants is a business of the country overflow of the river, wanting be inches of being as light as it was a A crevasse of considerable extent between the country of made in the levee above the general Wade Hampton, and sein mages was to be apprehended between that place and Natch

Captain Slade, of the brig Z-m, an Captain State, of the brig Z. m, as port from the wans, states, that the acceptain Taber, from Thompson's acceptain Taber, from Thompson's acceptain Taber, from Thompson's acceptance of the Chaptain of the Captain of Havana bound to Amo ber to Laguira,

Solomon Ballew, carrier of the sall lottesville to Richmond, in Virginia of dicted for purloining letters then tried at the Circuit Court of the tonow sitting in Richmond, and food now sitting in Richmond, and from motion in arrest of judgment is to be a the ground, that the 18th section Congress, passed April 30th, 1810, some brace the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the case of a carrier of the case of a carrier of the male to the case of a carrier of the case of a carrier o tion embracing only those "employed has the departments of the General Post Office

A Columbian cruizer has been hing the bar at the mouth of the M and the Louisania Advertiser than "she boards every vessel of a description that passes. If, add the be nal, this account be true, our many the ment should look into it. Our comme with the Mexican provinces is use We should not be surprised to late this cruizer is in search of the Mexican fleet of merchantmen the hourly looked for."

Explosions.—The powder works, see the lage of Newburg, (N. J.) owned by Mr. high blew up on Wednesday last, about for the in the morning, supposed to have been do not some ville meendiaries. Many people a distance of eight or ten miles, were said the intrine of the windows. The lost is the distance of eight or ten miles, were said the jarring of the windows. The loss a wall ly estimated from 2 to 6000 dollars. Mr. La ly estimated from 2 to coop dollars. With a similar loss about a year ago.
The powder mill at Westfield, Mas. one's Stiles & Pomroy, blew up on Saturday share
No person injured.

FROM AFRICA.

FROM AFRICA.
Captain Daily, of the Miles Standish, sinds
Providence, on Friday week, 48 days from a finiforms that there had been a general cope ment between the natives and the English there, under Sir Charles M'Carty, group general of the West Coast of Africs, in which governor was killed, and the array with governor was killed, and the army user command entirely cut up, with the ke of men. The English squadron had decised a coast to be in a state of blockade, and the six Standish was ordered off.

Extract of a letter to the editors of the U.S. God dated Aux Cayes, 14th May, 1824

"We are at a stand here, owing is rder from the general, probibil government made in the 12th year their independence. An express harges this day to Port au Prince, with a meaning to the President, to know what in the done, and what in future is to be the country should be refuse the country should be refused to the country should Treasurer from receiving the coin of of 12, we may consider all the merchanhere and those connected with then a ruined men."

he other

The

erased dollar traced of the Selly to deed.

ruined men."

DARING ROBBERY.—Between one and mo o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, while the day was absent for a few moments in the interior the warchouse, a person entered the common of Messrs. Brune & Dannessa, such street, Baltimore, and stole from the desired that Book, containing TWO THOUSAND DELARS, in U. S. Bank bills of $100 esch, all able at the Branch Bank in that city, from the day had been but a short time before drawn the before drawn the before drawn the before drawn the before drawn and the before drawn the before drawn and the before drawn to be 15 or 16 years of the before drawn and the before drawn in the before drawn and the before drawn in the before drawn and the daring felon may be breight up nishment.

Paramaribo, (in Dutch Guiana, Capital Surinam) of the 30th Jan. relate that ATTEMPT TO KIDNAP .-- ACCO the night of the 6th, a great as negroes had been clandestinely away by a French brig called Legs.
Capt. Poquain, and supercarge and consequence of which the Gosters ordered a green embarge, those people these escaping.

up to universal execuation; as bei basest of their species.

ATROCIOUS MURDER.

(Ay.) May 15.—A most struction in murder was completed in Bourbon saturday the 8th instant, on the body the complete a resident of min shape immediately fell to beating lashs until they thought he was near hrew him over a log on the bank of a exchained, "Lay there, you damned fill night, and we'll fix you then." ade out to crawlto a Mr. Sherisi's, when he me deranged until the next day; recovering tenses he related the mournful tragedy: He Bob Shields struck him first, and stunned so that he fell. They then three him over tog, when he opened his eyes and begged for ey. In order to stop his cries, they ran a down his throat, which is supposed to have ted the mortal wound. He died on the day night following.

night following.

the Shields have been taken and confined rate rooms in the jail, and will probably at the present term of the Bourbon Cir-have extracted from the Woodbury Herald, educeday last, the following particulars hing the examination of the three men who arrested in the neighbourhood of that town, ing concerned in the Murder of Mr. Bonsall. ld they prove to be the murderers-and is little room to doubt the evidence of the it is believed none will pretend to deny they justly deserve all the rigour of the law, this foul and unnatural deed. In Friday last, one of our citizens, while of Swedesboro', was informed that our looking men had passed up the towards Woodbury, and he was advised to them for an examination before they could the ferry. The gentleman immediately folthe terry. In gentleman immediately to-il them on to this place, and arrived shortly they had passed through: he communicated up, the place of the place of the place int, and the men were all overtaken near excited, that the court-room was wing. We give below a sketch portant parts of the story drawn rst execution. We give below the miportant parts of the story drawn as the course of the two examinations the course of the two examinations.

a in the course of the sand Saturday evenings, and his name was rat one called up, said his name was the one at the came from Westmoreland the came to the to Philadelphia, and from thence to the al at Newhold's Landing—that he crossed the ware at New Castle early this morning (Fri-alone—he fell in with his comrades this the Delaware—had never seen either of them -had travelled with them all day unus an-had dined at Swedesboro', and were on ay to thiladelphia—could not tell where on the day of the murder, exactly, per the road; perhaps in the city. On his on the may be the min the city. On his dexamination, said his name was Washing abby; could not tell why he changed his an oyster boat, in company with Abrahan board the boat on the night of the murder not been nearer Darby than the High Bridg the bear on the property of the bear of the property of the pr city for several years past; came from last; could not tell what day he l e; had no family; came in a boat from Cape to the Canal with Labby, whom he called man at the Canal; landed in Jer point; crossed the Delaware yes ay (Thursday,) about ten or 11 o'clock, with the other men; slept in the woods by him-last night, and joined his companions again morning; don't know where the other two t; did not eat any thing since he came into ey, till dinner to-day, which they all got at tern in Woodbury; believed hie was on board at on Saturday catching oysters. The prison-searched, and a number of keys and a ll are were found on him, which he said he y (Thursday,) about ten or 11 o'clock, with is second examination, he said the seissor eiving the coin a An express hargen to know what is the iture is to be the con.

der all the merchan

nected with them w

.—Hetween one sal two meadury, while the doponeuts in the interior of the content of the content

Ap.—Accounts from the distance of the distance miladelphia about eight days ago with Labby; hew his name; never saw the other man before a met him at Dragon Neck.

Michael Monroe lived last at Lancaster; came to the Canal on Tuesday night last; no one in ompany; came into Jersey this morning, (Friay); crossed with the other two men very early; lodged the other side of the river last night; he other two men dined with him yesterday on he other side of the river, and slept in the same losse with him shat night; first met she other we men at the Canal; could not say, with any artainty, where he was on Saturday last; was lack of West Chester on Sunday.

On his second examination, he was in Lancasee on the 18th or 20th of the month; followed thoe-making in Philadelphia within a month past; shile there he passed by the name of James Wellington; he could give a good reason for changing his name, but it would not be any use; worked at his trade in New York, two or three years ago, sith a Mr. Board; did not wish Mr. B to be written to; had no frienda; had never been to Darby in his recollection; did not know a town by that name. A pair of blue pantaloons being shown him, he said they were his; he had bought them and a below them. Darby in his recollection; did not know a town by that name. A pair of blue pantaloons being shown him, he said they were his; he had bought them and a blue coat and domestic muslin shirt, has Monday night, all of one man, between Lacaster and West Chester; they are not new. The rent, which is darned with black silk, on the high of the pantaloons, he said had been a rule pocket.

pocket.
The scissors chain found on Buys, has been recognized as the same stolen from Mrs. Warner, and the pantaloons and coat found in Wellington's loundie, are identified as the property of the deceased, by the tailor who made them. The ten dollar note taken from Mrs. Warner, has been baced to Sculitown, where it was peased by one of the men: and every circumstance that has transpired since their apprehension, gues more fally to prove their participation in this foul feed.

bening Bout.

PHILADELPHIA Saturday, June 5, 1864.

THE CARRET is now ready for delivery s to this work may expect to redive it is gree of next week. Those who can make nient will oblige us by calling at thi office, so they can then be furnished with it im

The cassys of BILLY and CERSON are both sious for publics laid aside as being too serime tion. We are walling, at all times, to leave our ns open, free for the liberal discussion of any subject which may meet the attention of our ients. We do not, however, consider purselves responsible for the sentiments they nay use, unless of a personal nature, which we are eareful to exclude; particularly, if director with disrespect, towards that sex, whose good opinion, it is our pride to boast, we take an in terest in cultivating.

The quotation which follows, is from the per of Mr. Jenks, editor of the Nantucket Inquirer, and is worthy the candid and liberal sentiments which are circulated by that paper. We wish it to be noticed by those individuals who set themselves up as beacons of light to correct the errors which they say have crept into society, regarding matters of religion. "Every man of reflection must be convinced of the impropriety and folly of legislating at all on religious subjects. The difficulty of accommodating human regulaof individuals in all their variety of opinions, ren ders such laws futile and ineffectual. While they exist, a fair investigation of truth is impos sible. All penal statutes should have reference solely to the moral conduct of men-to those nutual relations which his social condition alone inspires-and not his connection with God and eternity."

It would astonish the reader, could be examin the regards of our bordering settlements, and mark the progress of improvement and civiliza-tion which has taken place since the declaration of independence. What may yet be expected at no distant period, may easily be imagined from what has been witnessed within the last twenty years. On the 9th of December, 1799, William H. Harrison presented his credentials as a delegate from the North Western territory. That territory" is now divided into the states o Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, and the territory of Michigan, and there is a vast tract of land north west or north of those states, out of which other states will be formed in a few years-the prosent population of the district then represent ed by Mr. Harrison as a delegate, is about one million, and sends eighteen members and one delegate to the house of representatives of the United States.

Lafayette.- A letter from a gentlen Paris, who has lately visited Payette, says:heard him say, I would unhesitatingly declare, that we should see him among us before fall, or perhaps in a very short time. The sooner the better; for, without doubt, as I have often mentioned, he is the best person I ever came scross in my life, and one of the most modest and dis tinguished men in the world. He is absolutely too good for Europe. America is the soil alon congenial to him, and may he soon be there to know and see how much we cherish and love him, and prove that Republics are not, as was formerly said, always ungrateful."

It is with feelings of regret that we record the destruction, by fire, of the printing establishment of Messrs. Mendenhall & Walters, at Wilmington, (Del.) They are two worthy young men, who, by their perseverance and industry had placed themselves in a situation to begin business, which they commenced under very flattering prospects. This sudden reverse in their affairs, no doubt will be severely felt, and we sincerely commisserate with them on the occasion, but hope they may be enabled by the assistance of their friends, soon to repair their losses. The fire broke out on Sunday night, about eleven o'clock, in the upper part of the building the second floor of which they occupied. es spread so rapidly, that it was impo ble to secure the printing materials. The lower story was tenanted by Mr. Joseph Pogue, as a dry good store; a great part of his articles were saved. The adjoining houses caught fire several times, and were with difficulty preserved from sharing the fate of that in which the fire originaled, which was totally consumed. It will be re collected that the WILMINGTONIAN, and the Braxan, were both printed by Mendenhall & Walters, and must necessarily be suspended for a scason.

COMMUNICATION.

The inordinate desire of monopolizing, pro duces a mischievous effect upon many branches of business, but in few is it more palpably injurious than in the mode pursued by our Victuallers in furnishing the article of veal to our markets. Great exertions are made to secure to themselves the best calves, which are frequently kept in a state of starvation during several days previous to their being slaughtered; which, added to the abuse received on the passage to the city, frequently, and almost inevitably, leaves the calf in a state highly diseased before it is killed; after which no subsequent treatment can render the meat an article of wholesome diet. The subject is prognant with disgusting minutiz; but thus much suffice it to have said. Is it not, therefore, worthy the attention of our citizens? Is it not worthy the cognizance of the Health Officers?

the prove their participation in the feed of the provided in our fail, and as an area of accurity, a guard is extinued at the slightest hopes are entertained of his recoverage of recent to present the possibility of the slightest hopes are entertained of his recoverage or recent. The will stream here until the slightest hopes are entertained of his recoverage or recent to previous the life of the had a paralytic streke on the life of the had a paralytic streke on the life which has both him very weak. Previous to this attack his eye sight was entirely gone.

reliction is the consequence.

I hesitated on this subject, in order that it might have received an abler adposate. Confident of the salutary effect of the measure upon the United States, I am anxious to induer, if possible, only a patient acquiescence in the design, under the fullest assurance that prese and prosperity, as well as independence will be the mult.

That the subject is important, the liberal discussion it has regeived from the ablest statesmen of Europe prove. But they have written under circumstances in many respects differing from ours.—We commenced our unexampled career in an uncultivated country, with a limited population, and with few and rude materials for manufacture. Where, fabrication was tedious and unproductive; while Europe, with its define population and experience, very properly at that period superceded and mocked our attempts. At that time, and for a number of succeeding years, lew artizans emigrated mocked our attempts. At that time, and for a number of succeeding years, lew artizans emigrated to the United States, and those few with other prospects than manufacture; and on their settlement, uniformly exchanged their stechanical, for agricultural professions—and the cause is manifest. But is there no period to this course? Is not a change from primeval customs as necessary in this, as mother countries, upon a change of circumstances has been effected! Our trade with Europe has been declining for several years, and for several years the batance of trade has been against us? It is now known that we are not in want of population, that we have sufficient for all our exigencies, and which has rendered the intervention of Congress, at the present juncture, wise and salutary.

wise and salutary.

We have but to take an unprejudiced view of Europe, to be convinced of the propriety of the measure adopted by Gongress. All those countries which have adhered to low tariff duties, whereby which have adhered to low term duties, whereof their neighbours have been enabled to export their fabrics to them without expense or difficulty, have enlarged the market of other manufacturing, countries and proportionably contracted their cown, to the manifest introduction of poverty, and its concomitant ruin of state finances. White on the contrary those countries which have pursued the opposite course, have struggled with difficulties for the moment, but have constally risen to pulsance. the moment, but have eventually risen to opulence and independence, and in some instances repaired the public credit, ruined by a contrary pulicy; which has been effected by increasing the con-sumption of domestic stricles and thereby opening a market at home for the surplus, both of agricul-ture and manufactures: In corroboration of this, I shall extract a maxim adopted by Alexander Ha-milton. Eag. in his report, while Secretary of the Secretary of the Treasury, from the 'Wealth of Nations,' with his comment thereon:

"Whatever tends to diminish in any country the number of artificers and manufactures, tends to diminish the home market, the most important of all markets for the rude produce of the soil, and thereby stilf further to discourage sgriculture."

"This sound maxim may be fairly said to be the 'Alpha and Omega,' the law and the propheta' as regards political economy. It is the same with respect to that seience, as 'Love God above all things, and yourneithour as yourself,' in religion. Great Britsin has, by every conceivable means, increased 'the market for the raw produce of her own soil,' and every soil under heaven. On this basis she has erected the stupendous power she possesses, so far beyond what her natural advantages entitle her to claim. In Ireland, on the con-

"To the misfortune of our country, our entire system has been in opposition to this maxim. At every step of our progress, we have, by the encouragement of foreign importations, been constantly 'diminishing the number of artificers and manufacturers,' and thus 'diminishing the market for the rude produce of the soil.' And, in this wretched policy the farmers and planters of the country have suicidably co-operated. They blindly thought they were only guarding against and depressing the manufacturers—but the stroke har recoiled upon themselves, and on the country at recoiled upon themselves, and on the country a tions of a member of the Board of Managers of the Pennsylvania Society for the encouragement of American Manufactures. "The opinions of Mr. Hamilton on those topics are entitled to particular attention. His associates were chiefly among the Mercantile Class, a very large proportion of whom were his warm admirers and partisans. Whereas with the manufactures and manufactures are proportion. he was impopular. Had he at mislead him, therefore, it would have been in fa-vour of the former and against the latter class— And when a man with such a mind, and under such circumstances, advocated the protection of manu-factures, for the promotion of national prosperity, those who take the opposite side of the question, those who take the opposite side of the question, ought to weigh the subject well, and consider whether, in a conflict of opinion between them and Mr. Hamilton, on a point which he had thoroughly investigated in all its bearings and aspects, it is not highly probable that they are in error—and that they sacrificed the vital interests of a great nation by an obstinate adherence to theories, which that they satering the vital interests of a great nation by an obstinate adherence to theories, which, however plausible, have never failed to entail wretchedness on all the nations which have carried wretchedness on all the nations which have carried them into operation! witness Spam, Italy, Portugal, Poland and Ireland, all of which, highly favoured as they are by fleaven, have had their energies and prosperity blasted, by buying goods abroad, because they could be had cheaper than they could be bought at home—and thus fostering foreign, and frowning on domestic industry. On the other hand, all the nations that have protected their own industry, have prospered exactly in proportion to that protection."

The Quarantine of this port commenced on Tuesday, June 1, and will continue until the 1st of October next.

of October next.

The following are the officers of the Health
Establishment, viz:

President-William Hinder. President—William Hinder.
Secretary—George Emerson, M. D.
Tressauer—Samuel J. Robbins.
Health Officer—William Mandry.
Port Physician—Alexander Knight, M. D.
Agent of the Board—Joseph Reynolds.
Lazaretto Physician—George F. Lehman, M. D.
Quarantine Master—Henry Kenyon.
Steward of the Lazaretto—John Robbins.

ORDINATION.

The ordination of the Rev. WHILLIAM Mensa, by Divine permission, will take place at the Second Universalist Church, Californill street, or Dattedey the 18th learnet, or I surect, F. M.

MARRIED.

EDWARD RUSHTON, a ed 33 years,

Death's during the past week. In Philadelphia, 43 90 New-York, 34 45 New-York, there were 12 deaths by WILLIAM B. COBB, Black & White Smith, N. W corner Vine and Ninth streets, where Iron Hairing, Fire Proof Doc Lee. See, are Manufactured at Reduced Prices.

Pox! and 8 by consumption.

one conce of presention is worth a pound of cure. It is of the first importance that the Teeth be from time to time cleaned with proper instruncest, otherwise tartar, or what some persons call scurvy in the gums, will force the gums from the Teeth, and even destroy Teeth that have room given them to grow by nature.

The Advertiser extracts the most difficult Stumps with great safety and with so little pain as is sure to astonish every one, and continues to perform every operation in the line of his profession, on his well known mederate terms. He also fixes Teeth on decayed Stumps, in a way more security than hitherto discovered.

herto discovered.
2 Vince treet, between Fifth & Sixther eet
B. WILLIAMS, Dentist.

PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA
THREAD & NEEDLE STORE,

No. 53 NORTH SECOND-STREET.

The Buberibers respectfully inform the Ladies of this City, that they have speemed the above Store, and will keep a sonstant supply of the very best articles in great variety, viz.—Needles of severy descriptions, Cotton and Limen Threads, Pins, Tapes, Budings, Buttons of every kind—Sew. sing silks and Twist, Marking Carows, Rug do, and Woosted, Fins, Silks, Cotton and Thread, &c. &c. with a great variety of articles particularly needed in familie; islo, a variety of Fancy Articles, Gimps, Frons, Buttons, Cords and other Trammings for Dresnes, Habits and Milliery, &c.

Six Threaded Spoot Sewing and Floss Cotton of the most approved makers.

WM. MORRISON & Co.

Valuable Touls For Sale,

All the Tools of Edward W. Care, deceased, consisting of Machines for cutting large Screws, Stocks with Dies and Tops, Turning Lathes, Sledge Hammer's, Bwedges, Anvils, Bunth's Tongs, View, with a great variety of other Tools,

By Order of ELIZABETH CARR,

NOTICE.—All persons ind-best of the Estate of EDWARD without delay; and those persons who have burrowed any of his touls, to return the same immediately to the Subscriber.

No. 120 North Fifth street, sule Escentris to the Estate.

No. 120 North Fifth street, sole ELUZABETH CARR, N. B. All who may have claims against the Estate are in pacted to meet at Mr. Heavy Myers, corner of Fifth and Rac Streets, on Friday evening, the 11th inst. of a Scient. 310

A LL persons indexed to the Easter of JOHN HAKER, requested to make immediate payment, and there having may cisting against said Resiste, or suppressed to present the recount of the RANNAH BAKER.

PRIZES! PRIZES!

31,920 DOLLAR

Whole Package $22 25 Quarte UNION CANAL LUTTER

BCHEME. 3084 Prizes 4896 Blanks

7980 Tickets. P. CANFIELD'S

Pennsylvania State Lottery toffice, No. 187, Chamber, Nearly opposite and between the Pust toffice and Un-States isank. The cash, as senst, will be advanced for prises soil as office as soon as drawn.

UNION CANAL LOTTERY.

7980 Tickets at $5.

GIBBS' LUCKY OFFICE No. 4) SOUTH THIRD STREET, to have recently been sold, i prise of so.00 de, and prizes of 1500, of 1500, and an Leuvessee

100,000 DOLLARS. as usual, will be inivanced for Prizes sold soon as drawn.

TO THE PUBLIC;

For the Good of the AFFLICTED. ANDERSON'S COUGH DROPS

AND PECTORAL POWDERS, sared by JAMES METLEN of Hadron, are any thousands who have tried them in the district to be one of the best Medichies has, Aythors and Pains about the Brenst, as Siddy PHATCHER & THOMPSON, SOLOMON TEM-PLE, SMITH & PEARSOLL, T. W. DYOTT, EDWAND B. GARRIGUES, NO. 215 Market at, JOSEPH STOUSE Corner of Coates and Second-st. PETER WILLIAMSON, corner of Almond and Second-streets, and THOMAS CAVE, No. 324 Market-street.

g prevalent among that nony so convenient and mischievous.

Also. An distress to the Presbyterian Clergy, new assembled at it is city; and the usual variety of matter.

Published weekly, at No.74 South Second st cet, by JOHN MORTIMER.

Grand and Splendid Drawing.

Cohen's Office, 114 Market at, 2
Baltimore, May 26, 1824.

THE most splendid drawing ever wirnessed in Baltimore, Month of the Baltimore, Month of the Baltimore, Month of the Grands by distributing from the wheels of the GRAND STATE LOTTERY of Mary land, the following magnificent capitals:

$100.000...20,000, 2 OF 10,000...5,000, 6 OF 1,000 DOLLARS,

Besides 23 of 100, 18 of 80, and 2774 of 18 dollars, the whole payable in CASH, and to be all awarded IN ONE DRAWING ONLY?

At the present interesting and highly attractive period of the GRAND STATE LOTT-BY, those not yet suspited with tickets or states should make application without delay in order to prevent disagredatment, as the tickets are become, and the demand on reasing.

147 Distant adventurers may with confidence, forward their remembers to COBEN'S OFFICE, for if their observations of the state of the result of the state of the desired in such other locative time, the amount enclosed set is executed by the first mail, or if they so direct, will be invested in such other locative you hand as the state of the whole in it might justify.

Whole ticket $20, may produce $100,000

10, may produce 50,000
10, may produce 50,000
5, may produce 25 000
2,50, may produce 12 500
thares, warranted undrawns to be sed Eighth 2

Lottery and Exchange Office,

114 Market of Battinous.

Where the great against prime is BOTH THE L
PRIZES MAYE REPR OF WHERE SOURCEST

OTHER OFFICE BY AMERICA.

Guident from any pare of the United State Color of by gives convergence and for the laprices of by State of the United State Color page 125 or by gives convergence and the state

page 125 or by gives convergence and the state

page 125 or by gives convergence and the state

page 125 or by gives convergence and the state

page 125 or by gives convergence and the state

page 125 or by gives convergence and the state

page 125 or by gives convergence and the state

page 125 or by gives convergence and the state of the state of the state

THE CHRISTIAN, No. 20,

LYRIC MONODIES te weed her in her forest boxer, lesself the fairest, sweetest flower, le nw her blithe, and wild as they hat warble in the sunny ray hat warble in the sunny ray— le went! and oh! how changed that eye! He went! and oh! how changed that ey fler very smile was mockery. So wild, as vacant, was its gleam, As the life fled the lingering beam, And but for that faint heetic glow. That flushed upon her check of snow; 80 wild, so sait, at still, her sir, You mw that death was hovering there Twas beauty striving with decay, it told of hopes long passed away.

Her tale was short and eadly told, Ere her lips were fixed and cold: Oh! I have wended lone and sad, Where icy snows the rocks have clad; My robe in wet sea spray I wring, My hair locks in a tempest flung; by hair locks in a tempe. gazed where all was desoiste, But oh! that cold and inward dread For blighted hope and beauty dead, For hopeless love deferred too long, I wailed in many a bitter song, And feel the flush and pale decay, Together on my cold cheek play."

Cold is now that heart of feeling, bere the ley worm is stealing

Honesty not the best Policy. aught I knew of this world's treasures, Its tempting stores or tempting pleasures.

Its tempting stores or tempting pleasures.

My good instructors always taught me

"Honesty is best policy" - and so I thought
But think no more—since, t'other day, - and so I thought me Tempted by sparkling eyes to stray, I stole a kiss-which gave such feeling I'm ne'er so happy as when stealing.

PUZZIE.

I she read see that me love are up you'll Fil bave but you and then have you'll one and down and you if

The following specimen of a new translation of the Æncin into Euglish by a Dutchman, is worth preserving, as it is possible the whole work may never appear. The classic renter work may never appear. The classic render need not be told that it is a translation of the has age which describes the storm, and the iner deats between Dilo and Jineas, who were driv en into the cave by its violence

"Be chiff of de grove:
"De chiff of de grove:
"De chiff of de grove:
"Des hid not de tunder, " But de schweet love

The following, by the same author, is an eptaph on Shenstone. We are not aware that it has ever before been published. It was probably written after the author had attained some proclency in English orthography.

" Beneath this cold stone

"Lies William Shenstone.
"He was a poet national, "And wrote on subjects rural."

Odginal Letter from the Chief Manistrate of a Corporation on the County of Northla.

Dear Sur, on monday next I am to be made a More and shall be much obliged to you if so be as you will send me down by the couch some provissions fe ting for the occasion, as I in to ax my brother the old Mare and the rest, of the bentch. I am, Sur, &c.

Answer, by a wag, into whose bands it fell.

Bir, in obedience to your urder, have so it you

Bir, in obedience to year under, have sent your coach two bushels of the best oats, and, a you are to treat the old Mare, have added

TOUCH OF THE SUBLIME.

The following is a literal cupy of a speech, do. livered at a debating society is one of the western towns of Prints Plants. Corporal. Transeloquence was no touch to this masterpiech.

"Well—the subject to his recessed is whether ardeat spirits does any good or not. I contemt it don't. Let theke of our angisters, in litteral

It don't. Just think of our ancisters in future days—They lived to a most numerous age—So that I think that whiskey or ardent spirits don't eite fever. de any good. [Long pause.] Well- the ques tion to be excussed is whether ardent spirits do-any good or nots—So that I include that it don't [Another pause.] I can't git hold on the darner

A young lady told an old gentleman, that she was in love with his estate, "Take it, madam," and he, "and then you will possess two-thirds of myself, for you have my mod already, and my whole being consists but of mind, hody and estate."—"Oh, then," is joined the juvenile fair, "it would be very unreasonable, sir, to rob you it would be very unreasonable, sir, to rob you of all three.-Pray keep your body for yourself.

onsiderate kinsman. The late Mr G. Stackpole observing that every set of servants cheated their master, said, that as he could not expect better how than his neighbours, and did not wish any of his property to go out of his own family, he would here his from among his poor relations, he did so,—said it was not uncommon to hear him call out when his table was full of company of the first respectability,—'I nele Tim, tell count in Dick to go down to the kitchen, and acquaint aunt Belly that she has roasted the mutton to rags.'

Einers sorrow. A thicf being brought to Ty-burn to be executed, the ordinary of Newgate, in taking his last confession, asked him if he was not sorry for having committed the robbers for which he was about to suder? The criminal answered, yes, but that he was more sorry for not having siden enough to beibe the evidence.

At Purysburg, on the Savannah river, a soldier named Nicklin, having made frequent attempts to descri, was tried and sentenced to be hanged. General Lincoln unlered the execution. The rope broke, the second was procured, which broke also; the case was reported to the General for directions. "Let him run, (said the General of thought he looked like a scape gallows."

No prince was more addressed than Charles II, while the very people who sent these generous, may extrategant offers, searcely allowed him the noreasn's supplies. Killigrees saw this in a proper view, and once gave private orders to the tian's tailor to make one of his majesty's coat pockets of a most coormous size, and the other sarcely larger than a thimble. The king heing informed that this was done at the desire of Killicous, asked him the reason. "May it please out hojesty, (replied the arch war,) the slarge cockes is to receive the quirross of your subjects, and the other is to put the some yin, which to present years with." prince was more addressed than Charles II.

TAKE MILDEW DUT OF LINEN.

and rub it well; then acrops some to and rub that also in the linen; lay it

DR. JOHNSON.

When the London City Coffee House was first spened, Dr. Johnson frequently called there; one morning observing a large book upon the table marring observing a large book upon the took it up, and after inspecting the outside with great attention, he found it to be Minshew's Dis-tionary of Twelve languages; upon which he turned round to the master of the house, and asked him what use he could have for such a book !—" To amuse literary gentlemen," was the reply. "Do you understand any of these languages?"—"I find it a very difficult task, Sir, to understand my own, for I am not possessed of the crudition of a Johnson." The doctor looked at him staffestly and replied. "Sir you are a at him stedfastly, and replied, 'Sir, you are very impudent follow."—Sir, 1 am sorry von think so, (replied the man,) I hope, we shall both of we mend our manners." On this the doctor drank his chocolate and marched out of the house

THE WAY TO SILENCE COMPLAINTS. Be easy,' said a rich invalid to his son-in-law, who was, every hour, perplexing him with complaints of his wife's mishelaxiour. Be easy, I say, as her behaviour is so very blameable, I will alter my will, and cut her off with a shilling He heard no more of his daughter's failings.

There is a popular story, that about 500 years ago, the city of Basil was threatened with an assault at survise. The artist, who had the care of the great clock of the tower, having heard that the attack was to begin when it should strike. that the attack was to begin when it should strike one after midnight, caused it to be altered, and it struck two instead of one—thinking they were too late, the enemy gave up the attempt; and in commemoration of this deliverance, the clock ever since has been kept an hour in advance.

DERTS,-Dr. Johnson says, that " small debts are like

AGRICULTURAL.

Faurr.—There are tew who do not like good fruit in its season, and good fruit is seldom out of season—yet true trees are a door attended to, and their qualities still less monded. A farmer with an orchard of 30 or 100 trees, is too often contented if 4 or 5 of them bear a pulatable apple;
"the rest (he will sax) will do to make edge."—
Now the same attention and care which brought the 94 bad and 6 good trees, would have produced the whole 100 of the best quality—and farmers be-gui to learn, that the quality of the eder depends upon the apple. Somebody has said that "plant-ing useful trees was among the dottes which the resent generation owes the next; if so, let our greuturalists discharge the duty towards their iddren better than our predecessors have to us. not continue to cultivate trees which can prodoce nothing but craibed and unpolarable fruit, merely because we found such in our fields, lest our children say, "Our Extress have eaten sour grapes, and our teeth are set on edge with them."

To prevent the Destruction of Seed Corn by Birds. Barclay, Esq. of Sunderland, has never Gibert Bareay, Esq. of Sundertand, masnever had a hill of corn destroyed by birds or other vermin, by preparing his seed in the following manners—Take a quart of warm tar, and gently pour ou it about 18 or 20 quarts of corn, strring t at the same time, then add so much dry lime is will prevent the kernels from adhering to each other, or the person's fingers who plants the same. The corn thus planted will be longer in sprouting, but the blade will be stronger and of a dark-er color, and will sooner come to maturity than that planted in the common way. The expense is very triffing, and vast property might habeen saved to our farmers by this preparation.

EWES AND LAMBS.

Donne's Now-England Farmer says, "if sheep are ted with a little Indian corn, about half a gill a dis to each, it will keep them in good heart, present the wool from failing off and enable the wes to rear their young much better." Pota-oes are better food for breeding ewes than turnips, which it is said are apt to injure the lambs.
The Faceur's Mount bells us that the best nurs. white beans in small quantities, so as not to ex-cite fever. If your lambs are feeble they will re-quire to be marsed with warm milk, given fre-quently in small quantities. Ever milk is best, and it a two does not give milk enough for her Therefore, as before intimated, you must doctor the mother for the sake of her offspring pine boughs or spread tar on a board and a little fine salt over the tar, and the sheep ick the tar, and get well immediately.

CHEAP MANURE

In Important regent Chemical Discovers.

Till leakes and Gentlement of this city and else was expectfully informed, that Join while he has fertunately discovered, by the power of Chemistry, the covered by the power of Chemistry, the standard and the overenting Half from translation, and as the resulting off, as bette light Hours from the stapple cause. This halfs will, most absolutely, in the other of a short time, make the Half grow Realthy and hake, annhance terrors, it sadded the part is tradity shift have as makes the leaker and beatth grow regordly. It also reacher the Half grow the Half grow the standard part of the Half grow the standard part of the Half grown that the standard grown th ears of age, way fall assume a covering of hair if it be earlied that this Rabo will restore a covering of hair if it be explaid, used. The young hair always appears on the part hat was bold in the course of trenty-sine days. Though the groun who ness if he covering his is applying in occasion oily it will present the Nair from Follow oil. It is see pared only oil as seems at the extallelament, at one hollar per battle, half a bottle fifty cours, by.

LONG OLDRIDGE.

No. 84 (c). Smith Phone street, and No. 13, North-street, Pholadelphia; where Certificates may be see, also said at Mrs. THATCHER's. No. 447 Peach Jon.

No. 119 CHESNUT STREET,

K EEPS constantly on hand an assortment of Jewellery and thairwork, of his own manufacture, which he dishamped, suggested to be attained. f scholerate and revenile, several Silver Spaces. The ped, supposed to be stolen, several Silver Spaces. The can have them again, by proving property and paying may 20-ed.

PORTER, ALE AND CIDER.

THE Subscriber informs his founds and the public, that he continues he boate PORTER, ALE and GIDER, the challeng quality, for shown communication engaged. No, 100 MAHAET STREET, corner of Franks of courts between three and Fourth, april 10—4f.

2018 QuUNICANA.

POR Sale, a quantity of Printing Meterials, as follows: a store Braveler, stage of remaining Meterials, as follows: a store Braveler, stage of new phone 270 kg, 1 de, Stored lexa Printer, 100, 1 de, Grown Printer, 100, 1 de, Grown Printer, 100, 1 de, Colmobius, slaur, 19, 1 de, Bratis Pica, 6, 1 de, Calico, 20, 1 de, Sales Pica, 6, 1 de, Medica Nica, 4 de, 5 des Printer, 100, 1 de, 100 de, 1 d n which dispuse, Occupations, and Places of Negoties improved throughous the year. Terms, sus deliar answer, physicise half yearly in advance.

A GENERAL REGISTER

EXGLISH EDUCATION by PETER WIDDOWS

WILLIAM BARBER, Copper-parte Printer, No. 132 south lecond street. Hat Bills printed, and all orders executed or he most reasonable terms, with reatness and punctuality.

BENJAMIN DAFFIN, forer Manufacts o. 40 North Third street, a few doors belo

JAMES & WOODWARD, at their Book Store, No. 73 N. Third st, execute all orders for Book-building and Copper-late Printing. They also nonnefacture first quality Wafers. JOSEPH BINNEY. No. 38 South Eith street, Taylor, Finnian and Weavers' Shears Manufacturer. Also, Turkey tone Cutter and Culer, Old work repaired, ceased, gooded, Sec.

DAVID CLARK, Book Binder and Paper Ruler, No. 171 far her st. id story - blank Books ruled to any pattern, and ound in the handsomest manner.

ISAAC STUTTGARD, No. 7 1-2 South Second constantly on hand, a general assortment of ANCY DRY GOODS, -9

DAVIS & HANSON, Auctioneers and Com-8.7 A large collection of Canary, Mocking & Red BIRDS or sale at No. 173 Cherry st., the 1st house above Eight 1. Also, a large collection of Euroy Pidgeons.—s

Ductor EDWIN A. ATLEE, has removed from Sacc street to No. 101 North Seventh atreet, a few

JOHN MCLOUD, Hatter, No. 40 Market street, keeps natantly on hand, a large and general associment, JOHN HEAZLITT & ANDREW WILLIAMS, Silk otton and Worlken Dyers & Scourers, in all branches, a o, o Prune street, occupied formerly by R. Greer,—4* Stage Office, VALLEY FORGE, PHOENIXVILLE KINBER FON-John L. Young's Tavern, in Fourth strature Archstreet.

B. WILLIAMS, Dentist, No. 172 Vine above 8th st. orms dl operations on the teeth on moderate terms, as il cases of decay gives information and advice gratis.

GFORGE ALLCHIN, Backgammon and Chess Board annifactory, No. 163 Vine street.--3

CHARLES P. LISLE, No. 7 North Sixth st. Land Agent, roker & Conveyancet—do., Discounts promisory Notes, DAVID & JOSEPH E. LAKE, No. 165 North Third, near the st. manufacturers of Cabinet Furniture, Faicy & Wino or Chairs of the la est fashions. Orders left at No. 36 Nort

th st, will be attended to. BENJAMIN RICHARDSON, File manufacturer & Cutle o, 77 S. Second st. Cutlery, of every description, groun dished and repaired in the best manner, at short notice.

J. L. FREDERICK, Engraver, No. 53 South Fourth at here may be had. Musical Instruments of various descrip-ums, and Music for every department of the science.—128

GEORGE ALLCHIN. Book-Buder, and Gilder on the dges of Books, Letter & Filippe Paper, No. 163 Vine st. TOOTH BRUSH MANUFACTORY, No. 119 North This above Base. ANDREW MOORE keeps for sale, on se

P. C. WILMARTH, has removed to No. 254 Market street doore 7th; where he manufactures and keeps on hand a general assortment of Water Proof Cotton HATS.

INDIAN INFIRMARY,

No. 70 North Fifth street, Philadelphia.

D. S. SMITH, son of the Old Indian Physician, late of a bigh sense of gratinate for the liberal parcoage he has more with, in his practice, in many of the cities throughout the United States, as an Indian Physician. In particular Baltimore, his last residence, be can truly, and with heart-

Flue to the forms. These Madners have been need to be and the description of the Louisin Physician in the Heading Art, in the result of heigh form and raised among the source of the service of the serv

Convenient apartments will be prepared to present and present and present and constituted constitutions.

N. B. Dr. Smith will constantly keep a supply of Medial cines for the care of most diseases, carefully prepared by houself, with proper directions, at his residence, No. 70 march 21—3m

Five Dollars Reward.

R ANAWAY on the adjust, an indested apprentice to the Sincounking trade, named JAMES ESTELL, significantly space; small of his age; leave forward when he walk it takes long steps a great taker, and will be a complete taker high steps a great taker, and will be a complete taker by the steps a great taker. Russway, at No. 22 Callowhill street.

Protections, and the 4th day of December, 1820, an in-destricting entire for the Sheemaking trade, named ELLIAH Flex TCHER, aged By years, freched face; good clothes, with new hat and shee galso a large bundle. One dollar will be made and drivers of saids by as the above place. If said how will come back, at behave as they are bound to do, their master will say nothing with respect to going away.

WINCENT SLEEPER,
Max 16.--st No. 29 Callow hill street, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia Intelligence Office,
Ab. 7, North Seath Street,
A FEW DOORS ABOVE NARKET STREET,
PROUTRES Houses and parts, Boarders, Clerk, House, Journey and Appontices, Porters, Barkessee PROCUES HOUSE ABOVE MARKET STREET

PROCUES: House out parts, Basaders, Clerk, Housecachemets, Waters, Labourores, Scanders, Cor, Brander, Conchemets, Waters, Labourores, Scanders, Case, Farming, men.
Genoms, Canks and itames Servants of every description.
Also, Wet Nutree. To Bland, White and Colayed Boys and Girls, of different uses, Francisty to sell or last estee of grain.
The above constablishes or are on the patternage of the pubile, and particularly on flave in the habit of emberging pressurtions and particularly on flave in the habit of emberging pressurtions and particularly on flave in the habit of emberging pressurtions and particularly on flave in the habit of emberging pressurtions and particularly on flave in the habit of emberging pressurtions and particularly on flave in the habit of emberging pressurtions and particularly on flave in the habit of emberging pressurtions and the second pressure of the second pressure of the pubtions and the second pressure of the

A SSUREA those who may be disposed to try his re-trint he will make a piritest cure, and canable the pul-to chew with the teeth that were affected, ever though the complaint had been aggravated by had treatment. In Ira-thun forty-eight hours after the pain is curred, Mr. M. can pluy the rooth with the greatest ease to the pairs. I Mach and yellow teeth cleanyished brought to their original colour, and prevented from decaying, if it has commenced. He also supported the pairs of t a gums —Price as cents, Milford's ANDDINE DROPS, for the cure of Tooth Ach Price so cents. LOTIONS, for the cure of Scorbatic Gums, d to fasten the teeth, and restore the ficht when lone-rice so cents. These medicines are warranted efficacions d at the same time innocent; for sale by S. MILFORD, o. 103, South Fifth, near Sprace-atreet. may 15—15

BOOK-SHOP, 121 S. 5th st.

Eighth door above Spruce afreet.

DWIGHT'S THEOLOGY. A few copies can be lead, at of Sout, Henry, Gill, Mylight, Doddridge, and Earkit, Johnson's and Walker's Dictionary, small and large pChurch Harories, Calmer's Dictionary, small and large pChurch Harories, Calmer's Dictionary, small and large pChurch Harories, Calmer's Dictionary, and other Bible bettermarks. As the adversion purchases mostly at auction, or for cash only at private sale, he fields confedent of being side to sel as Chespan any in the trade, and all Books sold warrantee perfect.

a Group and any in the transport of control of the control of the

FRANKLIN PARK

Boarding School for Boys.

Near Ancom, about four miles from Burlington.

The Subscriber requestivity into me to be field and the public, that he has just opened a Boarding School, at the above place, for boys from eight to twelve or thirteen wars of age; in which will be raught, Reading, Writing, Ergich Grammar, Geog abys, and some brackes of the Mathona tics. As he intends limiting his school to a small number of boys, we receding sixteen, to which his attention shall be particularly devoted, heritatters himself that the chances of improvement will affird an inducement to parents and guardians to tavour him with their patronage.

Boarding, Washing, and Tuition, 20 dollars per quarter, for those under twelve years of age—2s dollars per quarter ter for those over that age. The price of each quarter pays able in advance. Two weeks vacation in each year.

References to John and Samuel Gummere, Burlett J. Pitficki, and Titus Bennett, Philadelphia, 5th mo 22--4t*

CHEAP SHOE STORE,

To. 258, Market Street, fifth door below 8th street Indephia. The Subscriber offen his present still Es and BOOTS, at the following very low entlemen's Philadelphia made warranted Boots, 4.00 a 5. Ladies' Valencia S

Do, Morocco
Do, do,
Do, Leather
Do, Morocco t
Do, do,
Do, Leather
Do, do,
Do, Leather
Do, do,
Misses' Morocco
Do, Valencia
Do, Leather
Children's Morocc
Do, Leather
Lo, Leather
Lo, Leather
Lo, Leather Do. Leather do.
With a variety of others, equally cheap.
JOSEPH EVANS.
N. B. A general Assortment of TRUNKS, also very lomuch 6-15.

HOWELL'S INDIAN SYRUP.

A PSEPARATION composed entirely of Medicinal Herbs and Plants, and has proved itself to be a valuable record for the cure of Colds, suthmas, Consumption of the Langs, and long confirmed Coughs; and particularly for the removal of these slight Colds attended with cough, incident to children. Peopered by the Proprietor ONLY, No. 70 NORTH FIFTH-STREET, where a liberal allowance will be made to those who purchase to sell again. Price 28 for sale by JAMES & WOODWARD, No hird street, a Selection from Walker's Pr ary, in which all those words subject to enguating those which are acknowledged by LLMUEL G. WHITE, Professor of

J. B. Wood, 42 Spruce, Near the Drawloidge, Philadelphia, Manufactures Is keepe for sale, Fans and Farming Trensit of all descrip-

Beware of Extravagance.

Beware of Extravargames.

C. F. FOLWELL

R ESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public in general, that he has removed from No. 60 1-2 Union street, to No. 124 South Fifth street, three doors below Pine street; where Tayloring, in all its branches, will be executed with neatness and fashion, exceedingly low for may 22-set

TO LET, A House and Lot in Camden. Empire of D. M. BURROUGH, No. 231 Arch street, 1 mta delphia, or to J. H. SLOAN, Esq. Camden. may 22-4t

NAUTICAL & MATHEMATICAL ACADEMY,

No. 295 South Front-street, six doors below South.

"PROMAS ARNOLD, respectfully informs his friends and the criteries of Philadelphia, that he teaches the following branches of Editerion, to pupils of the age of twelve years and upwards, viz.:

cars and apwants, viz:

Algebra, ficonoctry, Mensuration, Surveying, Gauging, devigation, and Lunar Observations, Grography, with the use of the Globes, and Book-keeping,
H. adang, Writing and Arithmetic.
Each Quarter's Tuition will consist of twelve weeks in consequence of which, no charge will be made for the matter operation.

in consequence of which, no charge will be made for the summer vecation.

"." Gauging will be taught both in theory and practice, by the Quater, or One Dollar per Lesson. Gauging instruments and a cusk are provided for the purpose.

AN EFENIM: SCHOOL Taught at the same place during the Winter Season.

J. S. RUSSELL, No. 68, Chesnut street, Has for sale a general and handsome assortment of BRASS, BRONZED & JAPANNED LAMPS, adapted to every purpose for which light is required, together with LAMP Glasses and Wicks of all descriptions, and every article connected with the use of Oil. HOTEL & OYSTER HOUSE. HAP HAZZARD, informs his friends and the public, that he has taken the house No. 113 North decoma street, where he will be happy to source them which Oysters, Relibber, and Liquors, of the first quality. 30, A conventant supply of Calor & Cular-Royal. uppg-ef

JOSEPH E. MILHENNEY, GLOCK & WATCH HAVER

GENTERL BOARDING nay 29-3t

LAND AGENT, Broker and Conveyancer's 0 Broker and Conveyance's 0.

No. 7, N. 6th hat, a few doors above.

The Subscriber offers his services to his control of the protection of

SWAIM'S PANACEA

** Professor of surgery in the University of Four targeon and Chinical Lecturer to the Alass Boar late.

** Fibruary 17, 1833."

** AGENTS.

** AGENTS.

** Reston—J. P. Hell. Druggist, No. 1 Union ared.

** New York—Colline & Hannay, No. 20 Feed ared.

** Dedd & Co. Druggists, No. 13 Brookless, grant process.

R. Dodd & Co. Druggists, No. 151 Bronners, Peter I. Lancator, (Jenn.) — Henry Keffer, Lancator, (Jenn.) — Henry Keffer, Pittsburg, (Penn.) — Charles Avey & Co. Begild Hitmenglow, (Del.) — Joseph Bringhart, Oragid, Heimseylow, (Del.) — Long let, Nathat United Marching in Giye-William Gusten, Dengild, Marching — Giye-William Gusten, Dengild, Nathat Charleston, (S. C., web. Huard, Druggish, Charleston, (S. C., web. Huard, Druggish, Oragish, Circ.) — Wan, H. Tuppia, Druggish, Nathates—Lehman & Bannouth, Druggish, Peters in other ciples will be appeared and proceeding of the country of the city, and place themselves war of come to this city, and place themselves war of come to this city, and place themselves war of come to this city, and place themselves war of come to this city, and place themselves war of come to this city, and place themselves war of the Come to this city, and place themselves war of the Come to this city, and place themselves war of the Come to the

CAUTION TO PURCHASEES. The errear demand and wanderful saccine, has induced a number of persons in the large of the lar

PAIR

But fi
To sp
Why m
"fire.
"Is a
"That Implicit styled fit
one who,
pringious
he belief
the Chu
"What ti

him to prove the over the dr, the thing,"